About This 30 Days to a Bigger Email List System – Top Resources Report

This resources report was created with the aim of helping you quickly find the top resources that are referenced in the main "30 Days to a Bigger Email List" ebook.

This list includes a whole range of software, services, utilities and free resources that will help you implement what is taught in the main ebook.

For complete details on each of the steps, of course you should refer to the main ebook.

Autoresponders:

Others are available for sure, but I've only ever used Aweber and so it's really the only one I can recommend. Plus it's really good and does everything and more that you'll ever need. Plus, they give you a complete month for FREE so you can check it out at zero risk.

Screen Capture Software:

1) www.Screencast-O-Matic.com – This is a free screen capture software with a $15/annual upgrade (at the time of writing this ebook). The annual upgrade option removes the watermark on the videos. A very low cost in my opinion.

2) Jing – This is a free software that quickly and easily allows you to take screen captures, and also allows you to record short videos. It has a low cost upgrade to make it easier to work with the video files.

3) Camtasia – This is a more expensive software, but it's honestly worth a serious look if you plan to do lots of videos in the future. It has a simple to use editor that can be used for all kinds of videos not involving your screen captures. That being said, I'd suggest starting with one of the free or low-cost options to get your feet wet at making videos first.

Landing Page Builders:

A proper landing page builder is an absolute 'must', and the two I use are probably among the most popular in the entire industry. These two set the standard for low to mid-priced entry level. You can pay much more than this, but at the start that's just not wise. Either of these will serve you well for years to come....

Link Cloaking & Tracking:

You'll need one of these, - even right at the start of your internet marketing journey it's a good idea because you simply don't want to be handing out plain undisguised links. If you don't understand why, let me point you to a Youtube video I did on the subject that explains it all in great detail. If you don't know about this stuff, it's worthwhile watching the full 6 minute video.

When you first start out, you can make do with the low cost product listed in #1 below (the one you just saw me talking about in the Youtube vid) which is great for just a single one-off low payment. But it won't do all the things that Click Magick (#2) does. Check them both out here....
